A student may take both ENG662 and ENG672 and each will count toward the degree requirement in place of one core course: ENG632, ENG642, or ENG645.

*Students must take four residency courses in their major area of concentration unless transferring in credit or accelerating, in which case they must take at least three residency courses in their major area. In some cases, special-topic residency courses may count toward that requirement. Consult with the Chair or Associate Programs Director for advising.
